CRITICAL THEORY AND SOCIAL JUSTICE
JOURNAL OF UNDERGRADUATE RESEARCH
OCCIDENTAL COLLEGE

VOLUME 4
FALL 2014

CALL FOR SUBMISSIONS 2015

Critical Theory and Social Justice: Journal of Undergraduate Research is accepting academic manuscripts for its Fall 2015 issue. For this issue, CTSJ is seeking papers of any discipline or topical focus; to be considered, the papers must be of high quality and at least 12 pages in length (15 pages or more is preferred). To be considered for publication, the article must have been written prior to the author's matriculation into graduate school.

CTSJ welcomes original research articles, essays, and reviews from students of all disciplines. Work selected for publication will display compelling and in-depth analysis, academic excellence, and significant relevance to the mission of the journal. Accepted work will be published in CTSJ's semi-annual online volumes. All submissions must integrate and apply critical theory to issues of social justice.

Published by the Critical Theory and Social Justice Department at Occidental College, the journal exposes students to the experiences of writing, editing, and publishing scholarly work.
